With the invention of Magneat™, the problems concerning headphone wire management are history! This circular button-like clip is pretty easy to use, and it solves a stringent problem. You can clip it on your clothes, and it is great especially for joggers and cyclists!

This gadget is the size of a half-dollar coin and it is a functional and fashionable accessory. This is the ultimate headphone wire manager for iPods and MP3 players and for mobile phones (it is cool for smartphones too). Magneat has a simple two part design, and it consists of a circular wraparound headphone wire piece and a powerful magnetic clip piece which can be combined and attached to any type of clothing. Together, they keep the wires close to your body and they reduce the risk of unwillingly hooking them or pulling your headphones out of the ears, or out of the device. Magneat sends in the past problems like hanging wires, tangled wires and it solves the problems related to wire storage when they are not in use.

This product is new to the US market, and it also can be found in retail outlets in Europe and Asia, and the most important place where you can find it is www.magneat.com. This small gadget is available in a variety of solid colors, which can fit most of your outfits, and the design is continuously improved. It costs $14.99 in a solid color (blue, red, yellow, black etc.) and for $19.99 you can purchase it in a special design edition (alien, bunny, skull, monkey etc). Here are some examples of portable media players, which Magneat is compatible with: iPod Classic, Zune, iPod Nano, iPhone, iPhone 3G, iPod Touch, iPod Shuffle, Sony PSP and a lot of mobile phones models.

You can find more information about this gadget on the website mentioned in the previous paragraph, and that is the place where you can purchase it too. I find it very useful because it helps you a lot with the wire management when you are jogging, cycling, working at the gym and it much many other situations where the risk of loosing your headphones is higher. This is a great gift and personally I would like to try one, and see if it works good with my mobile phone, because I always listen to music from my mobile phone while I am going to work by bike
